JOLIE HOLLAND

Thursday, Sept. 17, 7 and 9:30 p.m. (two shows), $20
Brattle Theatre, 40 Brattle St. Cambridge
General admission

Texas-bred singer/songwriter Jolie Holland plays two solo acoustic shows at the Brattle in support of her fourth and most recent album the Living & the Dead (ANTI), navigating a new rock approach that is built upon the folk, blues, traditional country and jazz spectors that populated her three acclaimed previous albums. This enigmatic Americana artist, with her uniquely smoky Billie Holiday-esque voice, counts among her ardent fans lablemates Tom Waits, Nick Cave and Sage Francis. She has been compared to Bonnie Prince Billy, Gillian Welch, Cat Power and Norah Jones. The album was produced by Shahzad Ismaily (Bonnie Prince Billy, Marc Ribot).

"As much jazz diva as honky-tonk harlot, and emphatically not quite either, Jolie Holland is busy alchemizing her own seamless, highly personalized cosmic American music". – Entertainment Weekly

"...like Jeff Buckley covering Nina Simone, turning a very modern ear toward yesterday." - Blender
